

MICROBIAL STRESS

from Molecules to Systems

Semmering (Austria)

May 7th to May 10th 2009

An international meeting on all aspects of microbial stress responses, covering pure and applied aspects in both prokaryotes and eukaryotes, with an emphasis on linking understanding at the molecular, whole organism, and population levels.

Confirmed speakers include:

Paola Branduardi (University of Milano-Bicocca, Italy)

Thomas Egli (Inst. of Aquatic Science and Technology, Switzerland)

Ryan Gill (University of Colorado, USA)

Michael Hecker (University of Greifswald, Germany)

Regine Hengge (Freie Universität Berlin, Germany)

Nic Jones (Paterson Institute, Manchester, UK)

Peter Lund (University of Birmingham, UK)

Franz Narberhaus (Ruhr University, Bochum, Germany)

Janet Quinn (Newcastle University, UK)

Thomas Schweder (University of Greifswald, Germany)

Katherine Smart (University of Nottingham, UK)

Johan Thevelein (Flanders Inst. for Biotechnology, Belgium)

Kursad Turgay (Freie Universität Berlin, Germany)

<http://microbial-stress.fh-campuswien.ac.at>

